AGAINST OPEN GAMBLING.

GOVERNOR ODDIE is against open gambling. The governor knows whereof he speaks and when he says he has seen the evils of the practice no one will deny the assertion. He denounces the evils of open gambling with all the vehemence of his strenuous frontier nature. From the first days of Tonopah Oddie has been a resident of this camp and during the boom days he took part in the big doings in Goldfield, where it was day all day in the daytime and there was no night in sight. Oddie saw the evil effects of open gambling. He saw thousands of young and promising youths lost astray and ruined by the perfidious allurements of the open play. He does not acquire his knowledge second hand or in the cities, where crime is covered up and gambling is conducted behind bolted doors. On the contrary it was in the saloons and gambling houses of Tonopah, Rhyolite and Goldfield that the governor saw gambling at its worst and when he says he is opposed to open gambling he appeals to every parent in the state. Who wants to have the temptation of open games thrown in the paths of the young? What father or mother is willing to endure the thought of rearing a bright boy to the threshold of manhood to find his steps directed to the pitfall of faro, roulette or craps. The average mining camp abounds in temptations of a grave nature that tax the fostering care of parents without having oily-tongued sharpers wheedle the last dollar of the paycheck from gullible youths or direct them to the danger of trifling with their employers' money and finally landing behind the bars branded as a felon.

Emmet Boyle says gambling is a dead issue. He knows he is not speaking the truth in issuing this statement for, if he used his eyes and ears, he could not be blind and deaf to the importunities of the so-called liberal league which has been organized in every county of the state to secure votes for the opponent of Oddie. Oddie is irrevocably opposed to gambling. Boyle wiggles on the fence, afraid to fall on either side. "Gambling is a dead issue," he maintains. The short ugly word of three letters should be applied. It fits the case exactly. No other word expresses the thought of every decent citizen. No other word fits the case so appropriately. The fact that a candidate for governor should temporize in such an important matter demonstrates conclusively that he is not fitted for the office to which he aspires. If he straddles gambling he can be counted on to straddle any other important measure affecting the welfare of the people should Nevada be unfortunate enough to elect him to the office of governor.

Secretary Lane declined to speak at a political meeting in California, saying he did not believe in imported speakers appearing in state elections. Within twenty-four hours after acquitting himself of this lofty sentiment the secretary of the interior appeared at a Newlands political meeting at Fallon, Nev., where the sentiment against Newlands was so strongly marked that Mr. Lane thought he could make an exception to the rule he laid down for use in California.

In line with his flabby jelly fish handshake Newlands stood up for silver in the senate when the resolution was introduced asking for the purchase of 15,000,000 ounces of silver bullion. The strongest remark he could make was: "It seems to me that there can be no objection to this bill and that it ought to be passed." Then this great man rested his case and the resolution was thrown into the wastebasket.

At this time it is pertinent to inquire how George Thatcher comes by possession of letters that belong to the private archives of the Southern Pacific political department. It is an old trick to play. If Thatcher was not holding confidential relations with the Heppin underground syndicate of political tricksters he would not be in possession of confidential papers emanating from that office.

Tonopah business men had to pass the hat to secure funds for building a quarter mile stretch of road to the new camp of Tonopah. If the county commissioners had let the steamfitting contract for the courthouse to the lowest responsible bidder they would have saved four times as much money as the improvement demands.

The Nevada Democrat, owned and paid for by Senator Newlands, will issue its last number this week and pass into desuetude until another campaign, when Newlands may be tempted to repeat his attempt to impose on the voters of Nevada. The fact that out of all the Nevada Democratic papers there is not one advocating Newlands is a good index of the way the wind blows.

Had the county commissioners bought the old high school for a county hospital the taxpayers would have been nearly $8,000 ahead of the game. This is what the machine bunch terms economy.

Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, on March 25, 1914, introduced a bill to repeal the fifteenth amendment and found an enthusiastic backer in Newlands, of Nevada. Newlands always showed his animosity for the colored race, but no one expected he would carry this vindictiveness to the point of sanctioning a movement for returning every Afro-American to the dark continent.

Newlands is a two to one bet in the southern part of the state, because the people down there know what he has done for mining, farming and stockraising interests of this state, as well as for the interests of all laboring classes.—Exchange. Yes, indeed they know what he has done for the sheep, wool, silver, zinc, copper and lead industries. Oh, yes, the southern people are deeply in love with Newlands.

Newlands is using his well worn post office trunk by mailing thousands of circulars out of the Reno post office. Other candidates must pay the government for the privilege of using the mails.

When District Attorney Sanders laments that he does not own a newspaper in Tonopah he should understand that the Tonopah papers have some class and are rather particular about their owners.

The colored voters of Tonopah will vote to a man for Sam Platt, as they have no use for a narrow-minded cad such as Newlands, who has no use for workmen.

FORMER EMPRESS DONATES HOSPITAL TO THE ENGLISH

SETS ASIDE PORTION OF HER HOME WITH BEDS FOR THE INJURED.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Although the Empress Eugenie is almost 89 years old, she is taking the greatest interest in the war and has set aside an entire wing of her house at Farmborough Hill for the use of wounded officers.

Several injured officers are now recuperating there and their aged hostess personally supervises their care. Her estate is near the great camp at Aldershot, which King George and Queen Mary visit frequently. Practically all of Empress Eugenie's men servants have joined the army in France. Nevertheless she entertains many of the distinguished military men who visit Aldershot, apologizing for her plain fare and explaining that her cooks have more important work now than preparing food for an aged empress and her guests.

"COLORADO-CALIFORNIA DEMOCRAT"

Gardnerville Record-Courier: A child of Democracy was born in Reno this week and promises to live until the 3rd day of November, when its infant form will be laid to rest in the journalistic graveyard. Since many of the Democratic newspapers of Nevada have avowed not to support certain candidates on the Democratic ticket, those candidates have become peeved and to get even, mother Democracy was ordered to do something for the good of the cause—and she did. The political child is called the "Nevada Democrat" and is edited by the State Central committee. "The Colorado-California Democrat" would have been a more appropriate name, and we let the new-born go at that.
